Dementia Hope

This is a not-for-profit website, and always will be. You will not be asked to buy anything, to part with a penny, or asked for a donation of any kind. There are no adverts or products being offered, endorsed, or promoted. The sole purpose is to help people in difficult times, to bring genuine hope, and to change the narrative for those with dementia.

This website has been written for the partners, families, carers and friends, who all provide love, care, and support, for those suffering from dementia; to include detailed sections, for those wanting more information. However, the website is also incredibly important for the 1.4 million people in the UK who have SURVIVED A STROKE, or older DOWN'S SYNDROME, and potentially for those suffering from PARKINSON'S, all of whom have a significantly elevated risk of suffering dementia.

From first-hand experience, and recovery from, early-stage dementia, I strongly believe the following are possible, that a significant percentage of dementia cases could be avoided; or to bring about, what is in effect, a recovery; stabilise with noticeable improvements; begin later in life; or not decline so quickly into late-stage dementia, much depending on the stage of the dementia when treatment begins, the persons engagement, and their underlying health.

The treatment, which is set out in detail on this website, does not involve medications, and is one you would have total control over, in consultation with your doctor. The website provides the information free of any charge. Almost everyone who engages properly with the treatment will benefit, to what extent will vary from person to person. Benefits should be noticeable within months, after a year they may become significant. The website will live up to its name; it puts you in control and brings you much needed HOPE.

ALL THE INFORMATION YOU NEED IS FREELY AVAILABLE ON THE WEBSITE.
